SimLab DWF Importer is a reliable and easy to use plugin. It's designed to export 3D solid models from Creo packages and assemblies into SimLab DWF formats.

Q: How to access to the values of a listview in multiple views? I've implemented a feed reader in which I'm using a custom ArrayAdapter. The problem I'm facing is that I have to populate that listview in the main activity from where I call the feedReader class. The problem is that the listview does not show the data from the adapter I'm setting when I'm in the main activity. I can access to the adapter and populate the listview from the feedReader activity but I don't know how to access the listview of the main activity in other activities.

A: You can implement a Singleton Pattern, which will be accessed by all activities and services. In the Singleton class, you will have a member called mListView which you can access wherever you want.

Like, public class Singleton{ private static Singleton instance = null; private ListView mListView; private Singleton() { } public static Singleton getInstance() { if (instance == null) { instance = new Singleton(); } return instance; } public void setListView(ListView listView) { mListView = listView; } public ListView getListView() { return mListView; } }

Update: Now it is better to use Application's Singleton class.

A: You will have to use an Activity Singleton with some boilerplate code to access the list view import Foundation extension Protocol { // MARK: - Conform to type to a type with a generic parameter @available(*, deprecated,
