A: I suggest this to you: Automate the download process using either wget or curl. Automate the installation using powershell or something like it. I am not a fan of pyinstaller. At the very beginning of the installation, execute the python code that you have wrote to see if it executed properly Notes on the python code: you can check the download processes you can see whether the download was successful, please google on some examples, check it out on the internet. you can see what keys do it need to succeed: import urllib2 from urllib2 import parse if __name__ == "__main__": base_url = "" needed_keys = {"Signature", "ProductKey", "ProductInstaller"} json = urllib2.urlopen( base_url).read().decode('utf-8') parse = json.loads(json) if all(v.lower() in needed_keys for v in parse.get('Product_Version')): for key in [u(v).strip().decode('utf-8') for v in parse.get('Product_Version_Information')]: print(key) Here is what i used to check wether the process is fulfilled right: import requests download_url = "" required_keys = ["Signature", "ProductKey", "ProductInstaller"] requests_response = requests.get(download_url) requests_response.raise_for_status() json_response = requests_response.json() if "Product_Version" in json_response: for key in [r.text for r in json_response['Product_Version_Information']]: print(key)

If you are yearning for a deeper commitment to your Muslim faith and desire to practice that faith in a more holistic and comprehensive way, visit our online portal! You have no idea how much your child will grow in just a few months of participating in these programs. Dear Parents, The problem of not having a uniform everyday dress code amongst the women in our community, including Muslim women, is that when a woman is observed in the street by someone (usually a man) who does not know her, it is difficult for him to tell if she is a Muslim. Muslim women have been dubbed "the scarf girls" (due to them wearing hijab) by some non-Muslims. This is a problem, especially in the media, and it creates the false narrative that Muslims women do not dress appropriately or modesty wears hijab is a "craze". In addition to the general modesty standards of hijab for women, the specific "covering" or covering in a woman's hijab is also important. This is the "apron of modesty" for women (in shari'ah), which is the fabric that goes over the hijab. In Hijab Today's "The Hidden Beauty of Hijab" in Women's Modesty you can read about Hijab and what it really means: where it comes from, why it is worn, what it covers, and how it is "modest" - and what this really means. When Muslims
