The newest DLC for the award-winning mech game Override from GosuGamers.net! This DLC adds one special brand of Brawler! Override players can now pit the Roman goddess of war against a Gladiator-inspired mech in a bloody coliseum match! Bellona is a goddess of war and a warrior goddess, she was known to often prevail in her duels. This DLC includes a Gladiator-inspired Mecha Bellona that specializes in fighting with her shield and high-speed attacks. Bellona's coliseum match is a competitive free-for-all! Her only true weakness is in the arena where she is prey to some strange paralysis that slows her movement and forces her to retreat from fighting. Bellona's secondary weapons can be dual wielded and have distinct firing modes, these include standard piercing blades, rockets, energy blades, gun, and the warhammer! This DLC also includes additional coliseum bonuses, equipment, costumes, wallpapers and a new selection of costumes for players to choose from! *Note: Requires a Launch Code to play.Pages Wednesday, April 30, 2010 Uno... "What's more fun than sharing your favorite treat with a kid?" Uno is the right answer to that question! I found this idea at A Child's World blog. I tweaked it a bit and what you'll get is a perfect, easy recipe to share your favorite treat and add a little fun to your life. 1 cup crunchy cereal 1 tablespoon mini M&M's 1 sleeve large pretzels 1 cup pretzel sticks 1/2 cup Hershey's syrup 1/2 cup water 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 1 teaspoon vanilla Mix cereal, M&M's, pretzels and pretzel sticks in a small bowl; set aside. Combine syrup, water, cinnamon and vanilla in a saucepan over medium heat, stirring to dissolve sugar. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; pour over cereal mixture and stir until smooth. Pour into a greased 13 x 9 inch baking dish; let stand for several hours. Spread on a cutting board and cut into 1-inch squares. Store in an airtight container for up to 2 weeks. Makes 2 dozen squares. This is such a super, fun idea!! Once you make them, the kids

A man who committed suicide after his girlfriend started to fall in love with him and then abandoned him turned out to be a former Bank of America employee who lost everything in the bank’s housing crash. The only survivor was his niece, who, eight months later, was at the bottom of his 60th floor hotel room balcony after a fall. She tried to save herself by “hanging on” to the edge, but lost her grip and fell to her death, the same way her uncle had died. “A suicide jumper” is the term for a person who jumps to their death from a height, in this case his wife’s fall was, according to a recent study published in the Archives of Internal Medicine, a “likely” suicide, in part because the circumstances are similar to those seen in previous suicides. Nevertheless, we like to think that a few critical points may save us from a similar fate. They are: • Does the person being perceived as suicidal show a clear intent to jump? • Is there any indication of a specific plan? • Are the person’s behaviors consistent with a specific plan? • Does the person exhibit threatening behaviors, use of lethal means, or target someone important to them? • Is there a history of suicide attempts? • Does the person appear “reactive” to stressors in their life? • Do suicide attempts occur

Build puzzle games! It's simple, just place objects onto a grid of numbers as they pass through the puzzle. Puzzles are automatically solved if the time runs out or the user decides to quit. Pixel Puzzles Ultimate is the definitive PC puzzler - but not only that, it's the definitive collection of puzzles. It's a combination of puzzle game concepts and puzzle app features all in one amazing experience. An extensive puzzle game with more than 50 levels (25 are freely available), each of which is a complete, self-contained puzzle. Puzzle - as the name suggests, this is the core of the game. You build a custom grid of 10 squares, each containing one to four objects. As objects pass through the grid, you can move them anywhere on the grid. The grid contains numbers (1 to 7), which are colour-coded to allow easy identification of objects. Only objects matching the colour sequence will fit into the grid. Solve a puzzle and get rewarded with objects that will help you build future puzzles. Combine puzzles to create new, more complex puzzles. There are a variety of creations available, including mazes, Chinese puzzles, towers and even sudokus! Enjoy your puzzles in two viewing modes: puzzle mode and puzzle view. As you complete puzzles, the 10 grid squares are shifted, revealing a new set of squares and new puzzles. You can edit your games, share them with friends and invite others to play. You can also view and edit the puzzles in the puzzles-only mode. Puzzles get progressively harder, as indicated by the colour of the numbers: Some of the puzzles are challenging and will take lots of time - and patience - to complete. When you complete a puzzle, the number of objects remaining will change. The colour of the object is also changed to green to indicate a completed puzzle. There are two games to choose from: This game is free and ad-supported, though it does include some in-app purchases. Puzzle is completely free, no in-app purchases to make. In order to play puzzles and unlock the puzzles-only puzzle mode, you need to upgrade to the full game. There are numerous upgrades available - you can upgrade to get more puzzles, unlock puzzles, get access to puzzle recordings or skip a day.
