My name is Alex. I'm a alcoholic from Tisnow, and I live a typical life. Eating, drinking, chatting, and waiting for the end of my boring life. One day my life changed. I got teleported in a mysterious temple. Maybe it was my dreams came true? Or maybe something completely different occurred? Game made by Nikandro on 15.09.2016. Thank you for playing my games and rate, follow and subscribe to my account. Hello, my friends! This is my first game. Why I make it on RPG Maker? Because I`m not a programmer, neither an artist, so in my humble opinion this game constructor is ideal for the first game. It's not necessary to make an epic RPG, then you can make a simple story about an ordinary people. "Simple Story - Alex Crack" - as you can guess by its name, it is a simple story about Alex the ordinary alcoholic. He lives a boring life, but dreaming to be a hero in a different world and dimension. One day, when he was leaving his house, Alex get teleported in a mystery temple. Is he sleeping? Or did his dreams come true? Or maybe something completely different occurred? You should find an answer. Game features:

- Short game length. You can complete the game in under half an hour, because in my opinion there is no reason to make such a story longer. You have a spare hour? Then you can enjoy it with this game.
- Complicated story. During the game you wouldn't understand what's really going on, until the very end of the game.
- The story is partially based on real events. Alex appearance and larger half of the story, based on my life.
- Easter eggs. If you will look carefully, you should find few easter eggs, In this game.
- There is no battle in this game, neither leveling, nor other attributes of ordinary JRPG. It is a linear story, carefully written by author.
- Standard art. I decided to use only standart art, and try to focus on story, instead on graphic.
- Possibility to use all surrounding items. Actually It is not only a possibility, but a necessary steps, to fully understand game story.

Stories are sometimes a mystery. An ordinary people can't explain the following story at all, but it's a truth. The classic example of such a story. When Alex was ten years old, he lost his best friend. Alex was heartbroken. Many years passed, but the pain was never buried. He was always drinking tea to forget about the pain. One day his grand father gave him a magic potion, it couldn't be a potion, because his grandfather didn't have the money to buy a potion. Was it just a daydream? Was Alex dreaming that in his life a new friend will appear, or he will visit a new world? Alex went to a magical place, and found a skull. According to the legend, there is a gate to this world, and the skull is a key to the gate. Alex went to the gate, but it was locked. Decided to find the gate's key. And Alex went to the library, where he found a hint to a door in the library. Alex decided to go through the door, but the door was locked. The answer wasn't in a door, it was inside Alex. Alex started to think about the next step in his trip. He started to analyze his life and situation. And Alex realized, that the solution is not that far. He can't be a hero. But he can help others, to get their lives back on track. Help people to get rid of their pain, so they can find the answer on their own. And then they will be heroes, just like Alex.

After the title screen, you can freely look around the room, where you'll find information about time and the level of the game. The left (on purpose) is the clock, right is the level. In the beginning of the game you'll find Alex in a cellar. He is sleeping. His dreams are coming true. He was dreaming to become a superhero - why? Because he can't accept the miserable life he has everyday. People say he's alcoholic, but he's not - he just wouldn't drink. His name is Alex, he's an ordinary man living in a big city. There are many things he would like to do, but without a strong will-power he couldn't achieve them. And now, he's going to accomplish his dream - he will leave the world he lives in, and try to achieve his dreams in another world. Sometimes it feels, like I'm on drugs, but it's real-life happening. It's not that good, but it's almost real. OK, I think it's enough talking. I will now show you the gameplay. You can move character by clicking on the map, you can inspect surrounding items (only recommended), and you can use your abilities by clicking on the choices menu. How to play: This game is in English. You should choose correct answer on every questions. Afterwards press the "Next" button to continue. You will find a lot of hidden easter eggs. How to find? Look closely. To find easter eggs press the "Show hidden items" button. Your first task is to find Alex's house. How to find? First, you should look for this character. You can view this from anywhere, but best for this is the beginning of game. In a cellar you will find Alex, and in his bag you will find a key. Use it to find keyhole, and you will find a picture of a keyhole. Take this picture, and look for something to light up (it would be better to use light source to help you). Afterwards press the "Show on map" button, click on the "Next" button and it's done. As the beginning of the game, I've prepared some situations for you, that will help you further on your adventure. Let's say you've been to Alex's house and found the key, now what? There are two places you can go. 1) The first way is to leave the house and continue your travel. Try to stay as close

What's new in Simple Story - Alex:

The plane touched down in Helsingfors late Sunday morning. It's only eighty to a hundred kilometers from Kvikkjokk to Helsinki. Once a year, the VAGI family travels to Makkum and then to Kvikkjokk. We had reserved a hotel room for the night of our visit. Helsinki harbour Helsinki was the destination for the weekend, and only two other families in the bay with us. There were sailing boats, private catamarans, and a couple of sailboats in the water. The girls and I were excited for our short overnight stay. The thought of a kayak relay, a "DRIB" race, was on our minds. We would go to the Kvikkjokk Viking Centre. We saw a sign on the front of our hotel that said, "300 meter kayak building pit and a Viking Centre." The girls were excited. We went inside to check it out. Large area for kayak building. These are now lined with pergola It's not far from the hotel. We were late in making it, as we jumped in line for a kayak building. It took 15 minutes or so and then left to go build the kayak. When it was time to go across the Rote river, an ice road for kayaks had been built. One person could push a kayak and another person could pull. We all went together. The river was loaded with ice, even in full summer. In the summer it's all melt water. It takes away from the swimming on the river for swimming but it does allow us to get across this north shore. View from the hotel We saw seals and eagles. Seals come close to the bridge and say something to our group. It's a good method of introduction to each other for the girls. The girls have been learning sea kayaking for a few years and they have learned ice-skating, and now they have experience with swimming and rafting. They are a tight-knit group. We also saw the eagles up close. We were too small to be prey, but I think they are protected in Finland. We saw a few seabirds after the bridge but got out of the kayaks to watch. We also brought sunscreen. We got back to our rooms as the tide was going out.
