Station is an underground train station in Hamamatsu City in the Shizuoka Prefecture. The station is currently operated by the third sector operating company, and is located on the Watari Line. During the platform construction, a driver's tunnel was also constructed. Station layout The station has an island platform connected by an underground passage. Platforms Adjacent stations History The station was opened on November 21, 1998, with an extension to the Watari Line. The 1.6 km Basome Stations project was paid for in part by the and subsidized by the Shizuoka Prefectural Government. The station is located on a 23-km route on which the Watari had its first groundbreaking ceremony on September 25, 1988 in Hamana, Shimizu, with the Watari extension started on June 16, 1990. The station had been under construction for 14 years when the 2011 Tōhoku earthquake and tsunami caused extensive damage. 50% of the station passenger waiting area was destroyed in the 2011 Tōhoku earthquake and tsunami. 18 months later, a 12-kodokun type column was erected in the station, one of the 18 milestones laid out in the station's construction, by Shonan Railway Co. Ltd., in a ceremony on November 1, 2012. Passenger statistics In fiscal 2017, the station was used by an average of 3,528 passengers daily (boarding passengers only). Surrounding area South Shimana Castle is located nearby, and provides a view of Yokohama from the station. Yokohama Minato Ward, is located adjacent to the station. History South Shimana Castle A traditional castle called appears on a map of Tokugawa Shogunate at the end of Edo period, which date back to 1603. After the completion of the Shizuoka railroad (which was started in 1850) and the establishment of Hamamatsu Prefecture in 1876, the castle location changed many times. A new castle was built in 1927, and was called South Shimana Castle. The present edifice is the fifth in the history of the castle. It was basically on the site of the old castle in the current station. The present edifice was completed in 1929. The castle has a moat with an area of 620 m2, with a four-story wooden main tower. The height

In the yeast Saccharomyces cerevisiae, the Appk1 and Appk2 mutations decrease an enzyme which synthesizes polyphosphate, resulting in defects in polyphosphate accumulation, and shorten the life span. In the filamentous fungus, Aspergillus nidulans, the affected gene encodes a protein kinase, which shows homology to a putative serine/threonine kinase of yeast. In this study, we isolated a dominant mutation in the
