

obtain the keys. It seems that only the vendor_id and vendor_secret are provided, and I don't have those. I could write a Bash script in order to get the keys, but I was hoping to use the java SDKs if possible. If anyone can shed some light on this, I would really appreciate it. Kind regards. //Edit: I have submitted this as a suggestion to the AWS team. A: I am unable to comment so I am writing this as an answer. This is the sdk that I used In this you can find details about how to authenticate and then issue upload commands to Amazon S3. Basically, you first authenticate using the key values that you have defined. After that, you create the multipart/form-data post request with the file you want to upload. It uses the key to sign the post request and then the Amazon S3 service will validate the signature using its public key. Hope this helps. #!/usr/bin/env python 04aeff104c
